

Carroll D Kirkpatrick

July 29, 1943 - May 23, 2019

Comments

“ Hey Dad,

It was so unexpected to have lost you from my life at this time. I thought I had so much more time to reap the benefits of having a great Dad. While we had our issues in our lifetime, as daughters and Fathers do, I am proud to have had you as my Dad. You were such a strong man with a good and giving heart and I will do my best to make you proud. You were a man who shared everything, would give the shirt off your back for someone in need, loyal, dependable, fun, and hard-working. You were someone I can be proud to call my father, and a multitude of people will miss you. But I am confident that you are going home to be with our Lord, Jesus Christ and get the wonderful opportunity to live out eternity with Mom and a bunch of friends. Frolic away, Dad!

I will miss having you as my teacher, the person I could call upon when I had problems with my truck or needed you to come “save” me from some stupid situation I had gotten myself into. I will remember all the things you taught me about motorcycles and cars and building things. How to fix my car with scotch tape, twist ties, and gum wrappers on a fuse. All the things about horses, fishing, driving, using a tractor and forklift, gardening, and bartering. I will miss your laugh. I will miss our horseback rides. And I will really miss you calling me “Doll” when you greeted me or told me you loved me. There is so much that I am going to miss, and yet, I am so happy for you because I wholeheartedly believe that your life is now with God. You are where you were made to be.

I will always love you, Dad, and carry you in my heart.

Your loving Daughter, Jamie

Jamie Kirkpatrick - May 26 at 02:55 PM